MEDIA RELEASE
Judiciary Celebrates SEA Students
June 27, 2014

The children of the Judiciary employees were celebrated at the organisation’s 3rd Annual SEA Ceremony. Tribute was paid to thirty three celebrants at the Convocation Hall, Hall of Justice, yesterday under the auspices of The Honourable The Chief Justice, Mr Justice Ivor Archie. Students were treated to a dramatic presentation by Arts in Action about the challenges of secondary school life and encouraged to work out their issues. Justice of Appeal, Mr. Justice Peter Jamadar had a motivational conversation with the students about personal growth and development. He demonstrated in a practical and interactive manner the importance of nurturing a good character and how their education is linked to positive character building. The judge encouraged the students to empower themselves and make a difference.

The event is held every year before the release of the SEA results in recognition of the hard work and contribution of staff not only to the Judiciary but also to their family. In her remarks, the Court Executive Administrator Ms Michelle Ann Austin thanked the employees for their commitment to the organization and expressed her gratitude to the families for sharing their loved ones with the Judiciary. She indicated that the children have reached an important milestone and that the importance should be placed on having gotten this far successfully. She also encouraged them to continue on their path of excellence. All students were presented with a token of appreciation.
